

DESCRIPTIVE ABSTRACT

A monitoring device by laser shadowscopy, which comprises a light emitter (5) and receiver (6), mounted on an arm (8) oscillating at will around two joints (13, 14), in order to restore the image of the monitored profile more accurately.

An important application relates to welding methods and especially in hollow beveled edges.

Fig. 1.